FOR PRESIDENT.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

JOHN A. LOGAN,
OF ILLINOIS.THE DEMOCRACY AND MOR-MONISM.

A Democratic paper says that the Republicans complain because Cleveland does not make some "radical" declaration on the Mormon question. Our contemporary is mistaken. The complaint is not that he does not assume an extreme position on this great issue, but that he does not touch the subject at all, and neither does his party nor any prominent man in it. The question of polygamy is the burning issue of the day. It is the natural successor of the slavery issue, and the sole survivor of the twin villainies. While the civil power of the Government has been for years ineffectually directed towards the eradication of this cancer in the body politic, and the Christian people of the country have regarded its existence as a disgrace and a crime, the Democratic party has by its silence given the Mormons encouragement in the countenance of their shocking practices and in setting the laws of the country at defiance. The efforts of the Mormons to have Utah admitted into the Union have always been encouraged by that party, and there is every reason to believe, that should the Democratic party obtain control of the Government it would promptly admit Utah despite and with its polygamous practices. Certainly every indication points that way, and it is a significant fact that every Mormon publication, and the entire Mormon people in Utah shout lustily and in chorus for the Democratic ticket, and with equal vigor and unanimity denounce Blaine and the Republican party. Charles Sumner stigmatized the institution of slavery as "the sum of all villainies," and the Democratic party may be truthfully termed the friend and apologist for everything that is villainous. It seems to be a part of its mission and a necessity of its existence that it should have as its ally the most heinous of crimes. Deprived of its favorite pet in the death of human slavery at the hands of the Republican party, it now clings to the next most abhorrent deformity to its bosom and adopts it as its own. It is not that Cleveland nor the Democratic party fail to give out radical utterances on the Mormon issue that they are criticized. It is because they are openly, palpably and notoriously giving aid and comfort to the Mormons in their law defying course, and by implication if not by a positive bargain assuring them of protection in their peculiar institution in the event of Democratic success.

LOGAN AND THE WOOL TARIFF.

The most absurd statement that we have yet seen in the campaign is that the action of General Logan in the Senate was antagonistic to the interests of the wool-growers. A reference to the pages of the Congressional record will give a conclusive answer to this charge.

When the bill for the revision of the tariff was under consideration in the Senate, February 20, 1883, Mr. Sherman moved an amendment to the schedule on wools, increasing the duties on wools proposed in the bill. The Chairman of the Committee on Finance objected to the amendment because the adoption would necessitate a change in a number of items in the bill referring to woolen goods. On this General Logan made a strong plea for the adoption of the amendment. He said the argument against the amendment was in effect that "it will take time to change the list in reference to other goods, therefore we will examine the question as to whether injustice has been done to the wool-growers or not." General Logan said he did not consider this fair treatment of an important industry. "If," he said, "wool-growers of this country have not had a fair deal, as we may call it, in the bill, it is due from the Senate of the United States that we should examine it and give them what is fair and right."

General Logan said he was satisfied, from an examination of the bill, that the reduction on wool proposed was too great, when compared with that on the articles, and he demanded justice for the farmers. Changes had been made on other articles during the consideration of the bill, "yet when a change is asked in reference to this great production of the farming community of this country, we are told that it will disarrange other classifications, and therefore it must not be looked into." General Logan went on to say:

I do not believe in that kind of argument. I do not believe in that kind of procedure. If the Senator from Vermont has facts in his possession to show that the wool interest of this country is properly protected under the bill and has a fair rate of duty on wool in accordance with the rule that runs through the bill, that is one thing; but it is demonstrable if it is so, and he is the proper person to show it. If he cannot show that these persons have all that they are entitled to, or all in fact that they ought to have, I shall vote for this amendment, believing at least that I shall be doing justice to a class of people who have very few representatives when we come to the Congress of the United States. When I say "representatives," I mean representatives selected from that class of people.

I shall say to the Chairman of the Finance Committee that if the wool interests demand this increase as it is given here, whatever change is necessary in the schedule in regard to manufactured wools or manufactured cloths of any kind or character, carpets or whatever they may be that has been made necessary by this change, I am ready to vote it. I am ready to do justice to those people the same as I would to the wool-growers. But let us examine the question fairly and not have it laid aside, because it might interfere with some other part of the schedule that it would perhaps take an hour to change.

I notice that if you undertake to change the tariff on bottles that hold whisky or beer it sets a portion of the Senate in great excitement. If you undertake to change the duty on any article connected with any manufacture of that kind it is very exciting; why I do not know. I cannot tell. There are reasons given for it, arguments made, speech after speech made in reference to certain interests; but when you come to ask for this great interest in this country that an examination be made to see whether they have been fairly treated, and you are asked to increase the duty upon this great article and make it satisfactory to the best judges in this country, who have come here, quite a number of wool-growers, I have seen men myself from my own part of the country who say that this tariff is destructive to their interests, and they insist that the duty shall be increased and if necessary the duty on woolen goods increased to correspond with it; and I believe that they are correct. They ought to be heard, and their arguments ought to be listened to and their words taken the same as the words of gentlemen who manufacture bottles, or who come from across the water, and dictate to Congress that bottles ought to be put on the free list.

Mr. Vanderbilt's pretended reasons for parting with Maud S. are taken by some of the Eastern journals with many grains of allowance and his pretended philanthropy is seriously called in question. Mr. Vanderbilt has stated that the worry and annoyance of being constantly pestered to trot his horse gave him the option of her purchase so that she should not be put on the turf again. But it is shown that there is a good deal of thrift in his pretended sentiment, and that Maud S. has been a better investment to him than most of his railroad stocks. It is now shown that he originally paid $21,000 for the mare, and that for the past four years, and under his ownership she has trotted in races and "hippodroming" exhibitions the records of which show her a winner of $23,000 in prizes. Having more than paid for herself she is now sold for $40,000 to Bonner. All of his talk about sentiment is set down as the merest bosh, and as entirely inconsistent with his previously developed character. He sold her because he was afraid that Jay Eye See might boot her record in which event the glory attending her ownership would have dwindled to a secondary place, and as a cold business proposition her value would have greatly depreciated. "Biz is Biz" with Vanderbilt, all of the time.

Will people ever cease to be careless? Probably not. Scarcely a day passes but the story of some casualty or fatality is sent over the wires the result of carelessness. On Sunday three persons were killed near Shelbyville, Indiana, by arsenical poisoning. It seems that arsenic which had been purchased to kill rats, was put in a baking powder can and placed with other articles used in cooking, and was by mistake put into the bread. It would be a harsh judgment to say that it served them right, but there can be no excuse for such carelessness. With these constantly occurring examples published almost daily, one might reasonably suppose that such accidents would be rare, but on the contrary they seem to be multiplying.

The Philadelphia Press adduces the following most convincing argument that wages are higher here than in England; one that will appeal to the patriotism of every Cleveland man in the country, and especially the gentle hermits of Harvard and Yale. Here is the proof:

"Received payment for executing Patrick Morrissey the sum of $650.
GROVER CLEVELAND."

"Received payment for executing Patrick O'Connell, at Dublin Castle, the sum of ten pounds ($10—$50).
JOHN MARWOOD."

Probably Cleveland was in favor of a high protective tariff on hemp about that time, but since the hanging privilege has passed into other hands he has become a free trader.

The criticisms of the Democratic papers on Logan's "illiteracy" are very amusing, considering their sources. They remind us of an incident that occurred in the California Legislature some years ago. The member from Colusa was a Missouri Democrat, whose peculiarity of speech was frequently the subject of ridicule by a Connecticut Republican, who was also a member. One day, after an amusing tilt between them, the Democrat arose in his seat, and pointing his finger with withering scorn towards his Connecticut antagonist, said slowly, deliberately and impressively: "Mr. Speaker; I have never saw a man from the State of Connecticut that could talk the American language correct."

The whisky pool has finally been re-established. Under the new agreement, which goes into effect to-day and is to be in force one year, distillers are not permitted to go beyond forty per cent. of their capacity. Houses not running shall sell their distilling capacity to the pool at a stipulated price. No member is permitted to buy another's running capacity. St. John and the prohibitionists have a tough organization to buck against.

The Fifth Avenue, N. Y., telegraphic correspondent of the Alta, whose letters are evidently written in the Alta office, says that Andy Johnson when President declared Hendricks to be the greatest man then in the United States Senate. It will be remembered, however, that Andy's opinion of Senators was badly mixed about that time.

All of the talk about running Hawley for Congress is the sheerest nonsense. In the first place he does not want the position and in the second he is ineligible under the constitutional provision which prohibits any judicial officer from being elected to any other office during the judicial term for which he was elected.

The Republican State Central Committee of California will open the campaign next Saturday evening in twenty-three different towns and cities. Ex-Minister Sargent will speak in San Bernardino, and the "Silver Tongued" Tom Fitch at Stockton, both of whom will continue in harness throughout the campaign.

Matters between France and China remain in status quo. A temporary truce has been declared pending negotiations in Peking. The first dose which China received appears to have made her sick; to have knocked her out on the first round.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton has lived to elude her first veto. She voted on Monday at the school election in Johnstown, N. Y. Her patient labors in the cause of woman's suffrage have not been entirely unrewarded.

Vermont held her election yesterday and to-day's dispatches will give us the result of the first gun of the campaign.

Butler's Stumping Tour.

General Butler left New York at 6 o'clock Sunday evening on an extended stumping tour through the Northwestern States via the New York Central and Michigan Central roads. He will arrive at Detroit at 2:50 A. M. Monday, and will speak there in the evening. On Tuesday he will speak at Grand Rapids in the afternoon and at Muskegon in the evening. From Muskegon he will go to Chicago and deliver an address at the lake front on Wednesday evening. Leaving Chicago Thursday morning he will reach Minneapolis on Friday, and deliver an address at the State Fair of Minnesota in the afternoon. On Saturday he will speak at Northfield, on Monday evening, September 8th, he will speak at Des Moines, Tuesday at Omaha, Neb., Wednesday at Topeka, Kas., and returning he will probably deliver addresses at various places along the route, reaching New York about September 15th.

Baldwin Makes a Proposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, September 2. E. J. Baldwin has such faith in his Grinstead stock, that he is willing to make a match for $5,000 against Lorillard's Mortimer; and he also offered to select four yearlings to run next season at Chicago against four of Lorillard's, $2,500 on each event; the distances to be one-half, five-eighths, three-quarters, and one mile. Lorillard has the proposition under consideration.

The case of Percy Jacobus, ex-Secretary of the Eureka Mining Company, indicted by the San Francisco Grand Jury on fifteen charges of grand larceny, has, owing to Jacobus being sick, been postponed for two weeks.

The Alta compliments Cleveland upon his ability to say no. Maria Halpin has had an unfortunate experience with this trait of Cleveland's character.

Mr. Blaine goes to the State Fair at Manchester, N. H., to-day.

Butler's Campaign.

PHILADELPHIA, August 30.

At a conference of the National Greenback Labor leaders with General Butler at Williams Grove to-day an aggressive campaign was decided on. General Butler will make four speeches in the State; at Philadelphia, Pittsburg, and two other places not to be determined. A red rose on a green leaf was decided as the Butler badge.

New York, August 30.—The delegation appointed by the anti-Monopolist party in Saratoga, with representatives from the National Greenback party, anti-Monopoly party and Central Labor Union, to-night agreed upon an electoral ticket, the members of which will cast their votes for General Butler.

Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.—Gentlemen: About five years ago I had a very bad cough, and tried several remedies without any relief, until I was advised by Mr. Whitney, druggist of Gouverneur, N. Y., to try your Cherry Peppercorn, which I did, and before I had taken half a bottle, I was entirely cured.

IT LEADS ALL.

No other blood-purifying medicine is made, or has ever been prepared, which so completely meets the wants of physicians and the general public as

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for all blood diseases. If there is a lurking taint of Scrofula about you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA will dislodge it and expel it from your system. For constitutional or scrofulous Catarrh, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the true remedy. It has cured numerous cases. It will stop the mucus catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

ULCEROUS SORES.

"Hutto, Tex., Sept. 28, 1882. At the age of two years one of my children was terribly afflicted with ulcerous running sores on its face and neck. At the same time its eyes were swollen, much inflamed, and very sore. Physicians told us that a powerful alterative medicine must be employed. They united in recommending AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. A few doses produced a perceptible improvement, which, by an adherence to your directions, was continued to a complete and permanent cure. No evidence has since appeared of the existence of any scrofulous tendencies; and I treat more of your disorder was ever attended by more prompt or effectual results. Yours truly, E. F. JOHNSON."

TENNESSEE

Jubilee & Plantation Singers!

Reserved Seats, 75 cts.

NOTICE:—The placing of this celebrated company before the public has been attended with the most extraordinary success, and why? Simply because we give the only original performance given. We present the negro as he appears in his meetings, cabin houses and on the plantation, and their music is so weird and melodious, and so striking that it enchants an audience, and sometimes we have hard work to get the people to allow the singers to leave the stage at all. Having played in all the leading theaters and opera houses throughout California, to the most refined audiences, they are now en route to the East and Europe. Reserved seats on sale at Jamison's. Performance will commence at 8 o'clock.

The "V. & T. engine, "Dayton," ran in yesterday for the first time since being repaired and repainted, looking as neat as a pin.
Adolph Sutro, of Sutro tunnel fame, was a passenger for the Bay on last evening's train, just completing a tour around the world.
It is reported that I. Requa, Superintendent of the Combination Shaft, intends to resign and his place filled by Chas. Forman.

Governor Adams has appointed P. H. Ford, of Virginia City, to fill the unexpired term of the late Matthew Cabavan in the Board of County Commissioners. The appointment is one that gives general satisfaction. Mr. Ford is an old resident of the Comstock and a life-long Democrat, well known for his honesty and integrity in the community, and will make a good Commissioner.

THIRD COMPETITION.

Wonderful Shooting—Ten Men Average 90%—All Records Beaten.

The Carson Tribune says the rifle shooting done at the Carson Guard range Sunday, the occasion being the third competition for places in the Inter-State team, eclipses anything ever recorded in the United States. The shooting is considered all the more remarkable from the fact that all were first scores. The best ten made 905, an average for each of 90%, while the entire 19 taking part made the remarkable average of 87 10-19. Ten men from one company—the Carson Guard—made a total of 881, beating the record made by the Nevada team last year in the Inter-State match by three points. Our citizens feel greatly elated over yesterday's work, and have every reason to hope that victory will again perch upon the banner of the Nevada team this year. The score is appended:

WESTERN NEVADA.

How it Looks to One From the Great East.

A correspondent of the Battle Mountain Messenger writes the subjoined impressions of places and things in the western part of the State:
LOVELOCKS.
There is a nice town building up at this point, which is destined to become large and flourishing, as it will be surrounded by one of the best agricultural districts in the State, besides good mines are near, that will, it is believed, aid materially in its support.
WADSWORTH.
Here the railroad company has recently built a fine depot, and since the destruction of much of the old part of the town by fire, the business has been gathering around the new depot and round houses, which is a more desirable plot for the town, as it is elevated from the river bottom. This town will at least hold its own, being the end of a division, and will receive more or less support from the mines and agriculture.

CARSON'S LATEST.

The Divorce Suit of Coffin vs. Coffin.

The upper circles at the Capital of the State are intensely excited over promised developments in the suit for divorce commenced by United States District Attorney, Tremmor N. Coffin, against Helen T. Coffin, his wife, whom he accuses of committing adultery with a noted lawyer of Carson and a prominent sporting man, as well as others, too numerous to mention.
Tommy's Troubles.
Tommy Fischer who has kindly volunteered on several occasions to clean out the jail and jail yard is again on duty. It seems that Tommy in view of his approaching nuptials with a young brunette of the Plute persuasion indulged in wine and cake with such reckless immoderation that he was found yesterday morning considerably disfigured and unable to attend the wedding breakfast. The guests in waiting, Constable Nash and deputy, were deeply mortified and took Thomas before the stern magistrate who after discussing the ups and downs odds and ends of conjugal felicity informed Fischer, with tears in his eyes, that it would be necessary to seclude him from the punch bowl for 60 days. Tommy marched mournfully away declaring his intention of taking part in the St. John canvass when released. A contract of separation has been agreed to by the bride.

First Grade Certificate.
The Winemucca Silver State gives one of our boys the following kindly notice:
Fred L. Gould, one of the young men who was here several months since to pass an examination for the West Point cadetship, but was called home to Reno on the occasion of the death of his mother, and consequently failed to be in attendance when the examination of the aspirants took place, has been granted a first-grade teacher's certificate by the Washoe county Board of School Examiners. While here in Winemucca he made many warm friends, who will be glad to learn that the Fates are not always against him, and will congratulate him on securing his teacher's certificate.

Death of Mrs. M. T. Barnett.
Mrs. M. T. Barnett, who had been dangerously ill since Sunday, died at 7 o'clock last evening. Deceased was taken with a severe attack of cholera morbus Friday evening and continued to grow worse until Saturday night when she became unconscious. Yesterday she rallied somewhat and hopes were entertained of her recovery, but she soon relapsed into a state of semi-unconsciousness and remained so until death relieved her suffering. She was about 28 years of age and leaves a devoted husband and one child, a bright little girl about twenty months old.

Sad Indeed.
Yesterday the little child of Frank Toft died at Truckee. It will be remembered that the mother of the child died in Reno several months ago in child birth, at the residence of Mrs. Biggs. Mr. Toft went through to Truckee last evening, and will bring the remains of the child to Reno this morning, in order that it may be buried beside its mother. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Biggs, on Plaza street, at two o'clock this afternoon.

Accident to Judge Webster.
Judge Webster met with a painful accident at his ranch Monday night. In walking over some rocks he slipped and fell, striking his knee against a sharp rock and cutting a deep gash of about three inches above the knee-pan, besides spraining his left wrist severely. Dr. Bergman, who dressed his wounds, does not anticipate anything serious as likely to follow.

The JOURNAL is extremely sorry for having stated that Wells Drury, Esq., was the Carson correspondent of the Lyon County Times. Mr. Drury says it is a mistake, and that he is not writing letters to any papers, and when he does write will be perfectly willing to own the authorship of his productions.

Death of Mrs. M. T. Barnett.
Mrs. M. T. Barnett, who had been dangerously ill since Sunday, died at 7 o'clock last evening. Deceased was taken with a severe attack of cholera morbus Friday evening and continued to grow worse until Saturday night when she became unconscious. Yesterday she rallied somewhat and hopes were entertained of her recovery, but she soon relapsed into a state of semi-unconsciousness and remained so until death relieved her suffering. She was about 28 years of age and leaves a devoted husband and one child, a bright little girl about twenty months old.

Sad Indeed.
Yesterday the little child of Frank Toft died at Truckee. It will be remembered that the mother of the child died in Reno several months ago in child birth, at the residence of Mrs. Biggs. Mr. Toft went through to Truckee last evening, and will bring the remains of the child to Reno this morning, in order that it may be buried beside its mother. The funeral will take place from the residence of Mrs. Biggs, on Plaza street, at two o'clock this afternoon.

Accident to Judge Webster.
Judge Webster met with a painful accident at his ranch Monday night. In walking over some rocks he slipped and fell, striking his knee against a sharp rock and cutting a deep gash of about three inches above the knee-pan, besides spraining his left wrist severely. Dr. Bergman, who dressed his wounds, does not anticipate anything serious as likely to follow.

The JOURNAL is extremely sorry for having stated that Wells Drury, Esq., was the Carson correspondent of the Lyon County Times. Mr. Drury says it is a mistake, and that he is not writing letters to any papers, and when he does write will be perfectly willing to own the authorship of his productions.
